SUBMITTING TO THE VTUHR

The Virginia Tech Undergraduate Historical Review welcomes submissions from all current or recently-graduated undergraduate students at four-year colleges and universities. Submitted manuscripts must adhere to the following guidelines:

All research articles must be based on original historical research conducted from a comprehensive base of primary sources. They should also include a fairly extensive historiography section and must feature a clear thesis that is integrated throughout the body of the paper.

All historiographical papers should contain a thesis statement that makes a historiographical argument. This thesis should answer questions about how historians have approached similar topics over time. They should not make historical arguments.

Manuscripts must be submitted via e-mail to vtuhr@vt.edu attached as a Microsoft Word document. Submissions must be between 12 and 30 pages of manuscript text. Papers must utilize the Chicago Manual of Style format and include accurate and complete footnotes and a full bibliography. Any figures, illustrations, tables, or photographs must contain proper copyright permission for use. Securing permissions is the sole responsibility of the author, and the VTUHR requires documentation of permission for work protected under copyright law.

All papers should be written in 12-point Times New Roman font with page margins set to one inch. We accept submissions on a rolling basis, and you may submit a manuscript at any time. For publication in our spring issue, manuscripts must be received between August 25 and January 10. Submissions received after this date will be considered for the subsequent issue.

Please visit our website at <http://vtuhr.org> for full submission information, past issues, and more.
